DESCRIPTION: Chama Gaúcha is an authentic Brazilian Steakhouse, known as “churrascaria.” The rodizio-style of meat separates us from a traditional steakhouse. Instead of limiting our guest to one type of meat, we invite them to indulge and dine on fourteen different selections.

Chama, meaning “flame” in Portuguese, is the essence of a Brazilian Steakhouse. This “flame” also describes the “passion” the gauchos, Brazilian cowboys, have for their culture and tradition. That passion for tradition is passed on to customers in every dining experience.

MENU: Chama Gaúcha features 14 select cuts of beef, pork, lamb and chicken. Chama Gaúcha gauchos personally carve all of the meat tableside for guests. Guests are also treated to Pão de Queijo, parmesan cheese bread; fried polenta, fried bananas and mashed potatoes, which are served family-style at the table. In addition meats and family-style sides, guests visit the elaborate appetizer and salad buffet, which is central to the restaurant and showcases over thirty delicacies.

PRICE: Dinner is priced at $32.50 per person or $19.50 per person for lunch. Children, ages 6-10 years old, eat for half-price, while children five and under eat free. In addition, guests can purchase the salad bar only for $15.50 (lunch) and $19.50 (dinner).
